Gentlemen:

Please be advised that this office represents Obitts Chemical Company, the addressee in your correspondence of October 19, 1970.

In discussing this alleged violation with my client, he denies that any pollution took place; however, in order to avoid any future charges of violations, Obitts Chemical Company has made adjustments to its fuel injection system. This should alleviate any problems that have existed, if any.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Very truly yours,

Dear Joe:

This morning Russ went to Elyria Savings and Trust National Bank and talked with a Mrs. Myers. In our file, she found an insurance binder dated June 28, 1968 along with a photograph of the building in question. This binder was for $11,000 and good for 30 days.

Each time we had ask Mr. Sweirs about our insurance coverage he assured us we were covered. Mr. Sweirs also promised Mrs. Myers, at the bank, a copy of the policy which he did not produce.

Russ called Ohio Farmers Insurance Co. in Leroy, Ohio and talked to an adjuster, Mr. Thornberg. He told Mr. Thornberg that his attorney advised him to call. Mr. Thornberg said he was very glad we called, as Mr. Sweirs had not informed them of any incident at our plant. The adjuster will be here either Saturday or Monday.

Re: Clark Equipment Company
vs. Obitts Chemical Co.

Gentlemen:

Please be advised that we do not feel the Clark Equipment claim is a just claim.

In our opinion, when Clark Equipment made its survey for Obitts Chemical Company, they warranted that the equipment furnished Obitts Chemical Company would do the job. Based on the assurances of Clark Equipment, Obitts Chemical Company entered into a lease agreement with them and found that the equipment furnished was not the proper equipment. Obitts Chemical Company further found that because the equipment was insufficient they were forced to constantly keep it in a state of repair resulting in great expense to them. Consequently, the lease agreement with Clark Equipment was cancelled by Obitts, and it is our opinion that no funds are due and owing to them.

Very truly yours,

Even though you advised Russ to sign this note, I am returning it with his name blocked out, as it is incorrectly written. The principal amount should be $2732.91.

There was a $16.00 drum charge on this bill. We returned the drums to them and did not receive a credit. Also we paid $134.56 on the bill. I do not approve of the small print whereas, if one payment should be late, the entire balance is due and I am authorizing any attorney to appear against me. I personally refuse to sign it.

Dear Joe,

As per our phone conversation today, we wish you to write a letter to Technical Products Co. 3500 Ridge Road, Cleveland, Ohio 44102, Att: Mr. Groya. We owe them a total of $2867.47 Mr Groya agreed verbally to accept payment of this on a monthly basis over a period of 2 years. You might explain our reasons for getting behind on bills was the results of the Fire Dept. making demands upon us which cost up several thousand dollars we had not counted on paying.

Dear Mr. Cirigliano:

I make reference to our telephone conversation on January 8 in regard to the differential repairs on a Model B67T Mack truck belonging to Obitts Chemical Company in Elyria, Ohio.

On August 25, 1966 the vehicle was received in our shop for a normal differential repair and some miscellaneous repairs. Upon disassembly it was noted that due to the extreme wear of the bearings, spider gears, side gears, compensating case and ring and pinion gear set that a new assembly should be used for replacement.

We at White Trucks were not aware that the vehicle had been involved in an accident nor did any insurance adjuster look at the unit. The repair is considered normal maintenance and we are looking forward to receiving a check for such from your client, Obitts Chemical Company, in the amount of $1,307.63.

Dear Joe,

On July 14, 1965, we wrote you asking you to write Coloramic Process a letter about the past due bill owed to us. Two weeks ago, I wrote them and told them, we were going to file suit against them unless their past due account was paid by January 15, 1966. To my great surprise, they paid the bill on Jan. 15th. I just wanted to keep you informed so that you may take this off you incomplete work records.

I have been invoicing Harshaw Chemical Co. for rent of their power transformer on my property at the rate of $25.00 per month, as of last May. This months invoice to them makes a total of $225.00 due. I have heard nothing on this from anyone from Harshaw Chemical, although one day there were about six men around the power transformer looking it over and taking measurements. If you are ever in contact with their attorney, I would prefer to trade some of their parking lot for the piece of ground the transformer is on. It would allow us a little more room for expansion of our tank farm.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy K. Dubens
